

Eric Lewis is a Vice President and Business Services Officer in the Baltimore Metro Region of BB&T. He is responsible for identifying, selecting, developing, managing, servicing, and expanding business relationships in the Baltimore Metro Region by offering a full range of loan, deposit, and other non-credit services to existing and prospective clients. Eric typically handles loan requests ranging from $3,000,000 to $20,000,000. Eric has been in the banking industry for ten (10) years.

Eric received his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with a concentration in Finance from the University of Maine in 1999. Having received a full athletic scholarship, he was a four (4) year starter at cornerback on the Division 1-AA Maine Black Bears football team, earning All-Atlantic 10 Conference and All-Academic Atlantic 10 Conference honors.

Prior to BB&T, Eric began his banking career in 1999 with HSBC Bank in New York City. During the four (4) years with the organization, Eric was credit trained both in New York, NY and London, England before taking positions within HSBC as a senior credit analyst and a relationship manager. Eric moved to the Baltimore Area in 2003 to be closer to family and friends.

Currently, Eric is a board member of the Baltimore Dyslexia Tutoring Program, whose mission is to teach low-income dyslexic children and adults to read. Eric previously served as treasurer for Kids on the Hill, a non-profit organization based in the Reservoir Hill neighborhood of Baltimore City that uses art and other after school programs to encourage positive life outcomes. He has also volunteered at St. Vincent's, a residential, therapeutic group facility that serves children ages 3 through 13 that have serious behavioral, psychiatric and/or emotional problems. Located in Timonium, MD, the majority of children referred to St. Vincent's have suffered trauma related to child abuse and neglect.

Eric and his wife Ariel Lewis live in Parkville, MD.
